K. Ireland. Print (1798) margin, Cambridge

“ YESTERDAY Advices were received from Lieute“ nant Colonel Foot, of the North Cork Regiment of Mi“ litia, that having advanced with one Hundred Men “ against a very numerous Body of Rebels, his Party was “ attacked when exhausted by the Length of their March,
“ and, after killing a great Number of the Enemy, it was “ almost entirely cut off.

“ Late in the Evening General Lake arrived from Kil-
“ cullen, where he received the unconditional Submission
“ of a Body of Rebels amounting to near four Thou“ sand, who, after having delivered up their Arms, and “ seven Persons who were their Leaders, were permitted “ to return into the King's Peace. Their Sorrow and “ Repentance seemed complete.

“ The Town of Kildare, and the adjacent Parts, have “ also begged to make an unconditional Submission.”
